Scott is Senior Vice President and Senior Principal Landscape Architect at Insite. He joined the firm in 1994 and became partner in 1995 adding landscape architecture to the firm's disciplines. With his addition, Insite's area of coverage expanded south into lower Westchester County and the firm's site design capabilities were significantly augmented.

Scott's previous experience with a number of regional landscape architecture and engineering firms gave him in-depth knowledge and experience in the planning process in many Westchester municipalities. Scott now assists clients throughout the region with site planning, master planning, site design and landscape architecture. He has particular expertise in collaborating on project design teams on complex site planning projects.

Scott is responsible for oversight of plan preparation, specifications and reports for various site planning, master planning, site design, and landscape architectural projects for residential, commercial, and municipal assignments. He regularly coordinates efforts with permitting authorities, and directs the design team toward successful project completion. Clients include private developers, regional institutions, facility owners, local municipalities, county governments, golf clubs and private landowners.
